

Impact Clay

Inspiring collaboration that drives positive change.

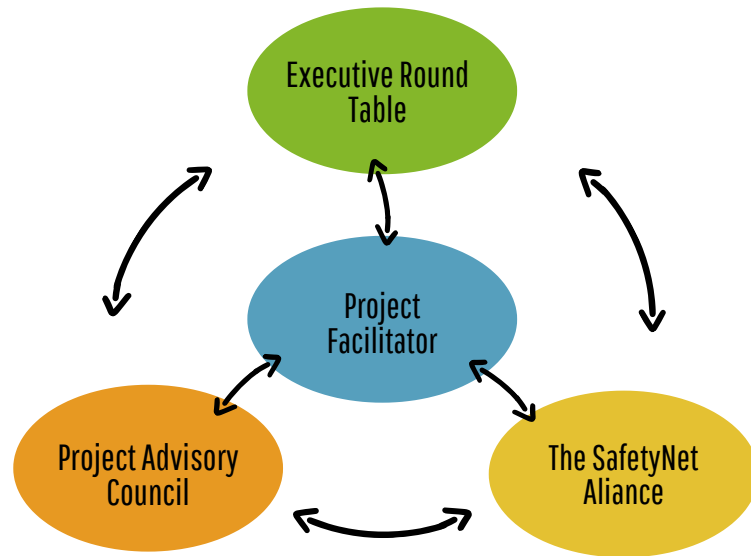

Impact Clay serves our community by meeting the crucial social service needs of families, individuals, and children by linking the private, public, nonprofit and faith based sectors through collaborative projects. We provide a structure and process for collaborating with partners to overcome administrative barriers, as well as the various silos within our community that restrict decision making.

Executive Roundtable

The primary role of the ERT is to:

- Endorse and support projects or strategies to be addressed within the county;
- Remove policy and fiscal barriers to implementation of agreed upon strategies; and
- Monitor and evaluate the progress of implemented strategies.

Project Advisory Council

The primary responsibilities of the PAC include:

- Identifying issues requiring top-level decisions which cross agency lines/barriers for effective service delivery
- Researching issues with the SafetyNet Alliance — gathering data, establishing baselines, and developing options and recommendations for the ERT
- Reviewing, assessing viability of, and grooming proposed projects to be considered for ERT support
- Implementing the work plan that delineates the strategies endorsed by the ERT

The SafetyNet Alliance

The Clay SafetyNet Alliance is a unified network of Clay County non-profits, churches, businesses and local governmental agencies that brings services and support to the county's more than 200,000 residents.

Executive Roundtable

The Executive RoundTable is made up of the highest-level multi-sector executives within Clay County who have a shared focus on:

- Providing a mechanism for dialogue and community problem-solving;
- Creating a forum to appropriately address county-wide issues that affect families, individuals, and children;
- Encouraging shared decision making and shared accountability at the policy level;
- Coordinating inter-agency initiatives and making joint policy and funding decisions;
- Maximizing use of time and resources; and
- Monitoring the implementation of decisions.

Project Advisory Council

The Project Advisory Council is comprised of junior-level executives serving under ERT representatives and other influential executives who have a shared interest in the Impact Clay mission and project management experience.

The SafetyNet Alliance

The Clay SafetyNet Alliance and Keystone SafetyNet Alliance meet monthly to share information and resources and to uncover issues within our community that need attention. Member organizations who participate in the SNA are incentivized by the opportunity to network, promote their organization's services and activities, secure partnership opportunities, and grow funding relationships. This network, along with the community at large, is the primary initiator of project recommendations for PAC and ERT consideration, and serves as the platform for a service-ready volunteer recruitment force able to mobilize dozens or hundreds of volunteers needed for countywide emergency response or other special community needs. Similar to the PAC, this group may accomplish tasks and complete assignments in ad hoc groups outside of the monthly meetings.
